"My Dearest Liz."

It was way back in the days of Roosevelt (wasn't) that we met in "cooking". We then didn't think much of each other. Then when we were "little freshies" we took debate together. We also went to games and things together and had lots of fun. It took you, to have some fun. & then started to call you "Liz" and you called me "Suede". This year, when we are a little more grown ups, we haven't been together so very much. But I still think the world of you and I always will as you really are one of the best girls I know. I do hope will always remain friends and can be together more next year. I do wish you just "gobs" "and" gobs" of the best luck and success. and I do think you'll have it as you are that type of person.

Bye - now

P. S. have a nice summer and please be good.

Some times in a school faculty, one finds a teacher who "rings the bell", in every sense of the phrase, with all her students. To such a person—Miss Lelia Z. Moore—our 1943 Trail is dedicated. For twenty-two years Miss Moore served on the faculty at Washington building, but this year illness made it necessary for her to retire. In Miss Moore's classes there was more than English to be enjoyed. She gave, to her students, philosophy, mixed with common sense, discipline flavored with kindness. Geography, history and sociology were often introduced into an English or American literature lesson, which otherwise might have been dull for some. Even to those of us who had no particular flair for literature, Miss Moore's interest in the whole of life made a class with her, not an assignment but an adventure. Poetry achieved new beauty, and hidden depths were reached in prose. As English teacher and friend Miss Moore won, in her more than twenty years of service for Salina High, the admiration and respect of hundreds of students during their "golden school days".

Hope to see you over here next year

As the last of our Golden Days roll around, we look back on more than just the three R's. Our learning years have brought some unforgettable memories and pleasant associations with super studes. We seniors feel a bit of regret in leaving the juniors, Lincolnites, and Roosevelteers with whom we have worked and played during these high school years. We remember especially this year the football and basketball games . . . homecoming and the queen . . . junior play-brought back to dear old Washington stage . . . girls pep club and all-girl orchestra . . . junior-senior frolic . . . and finally—the commencement season with class day, Baccalaureate, and commencement!

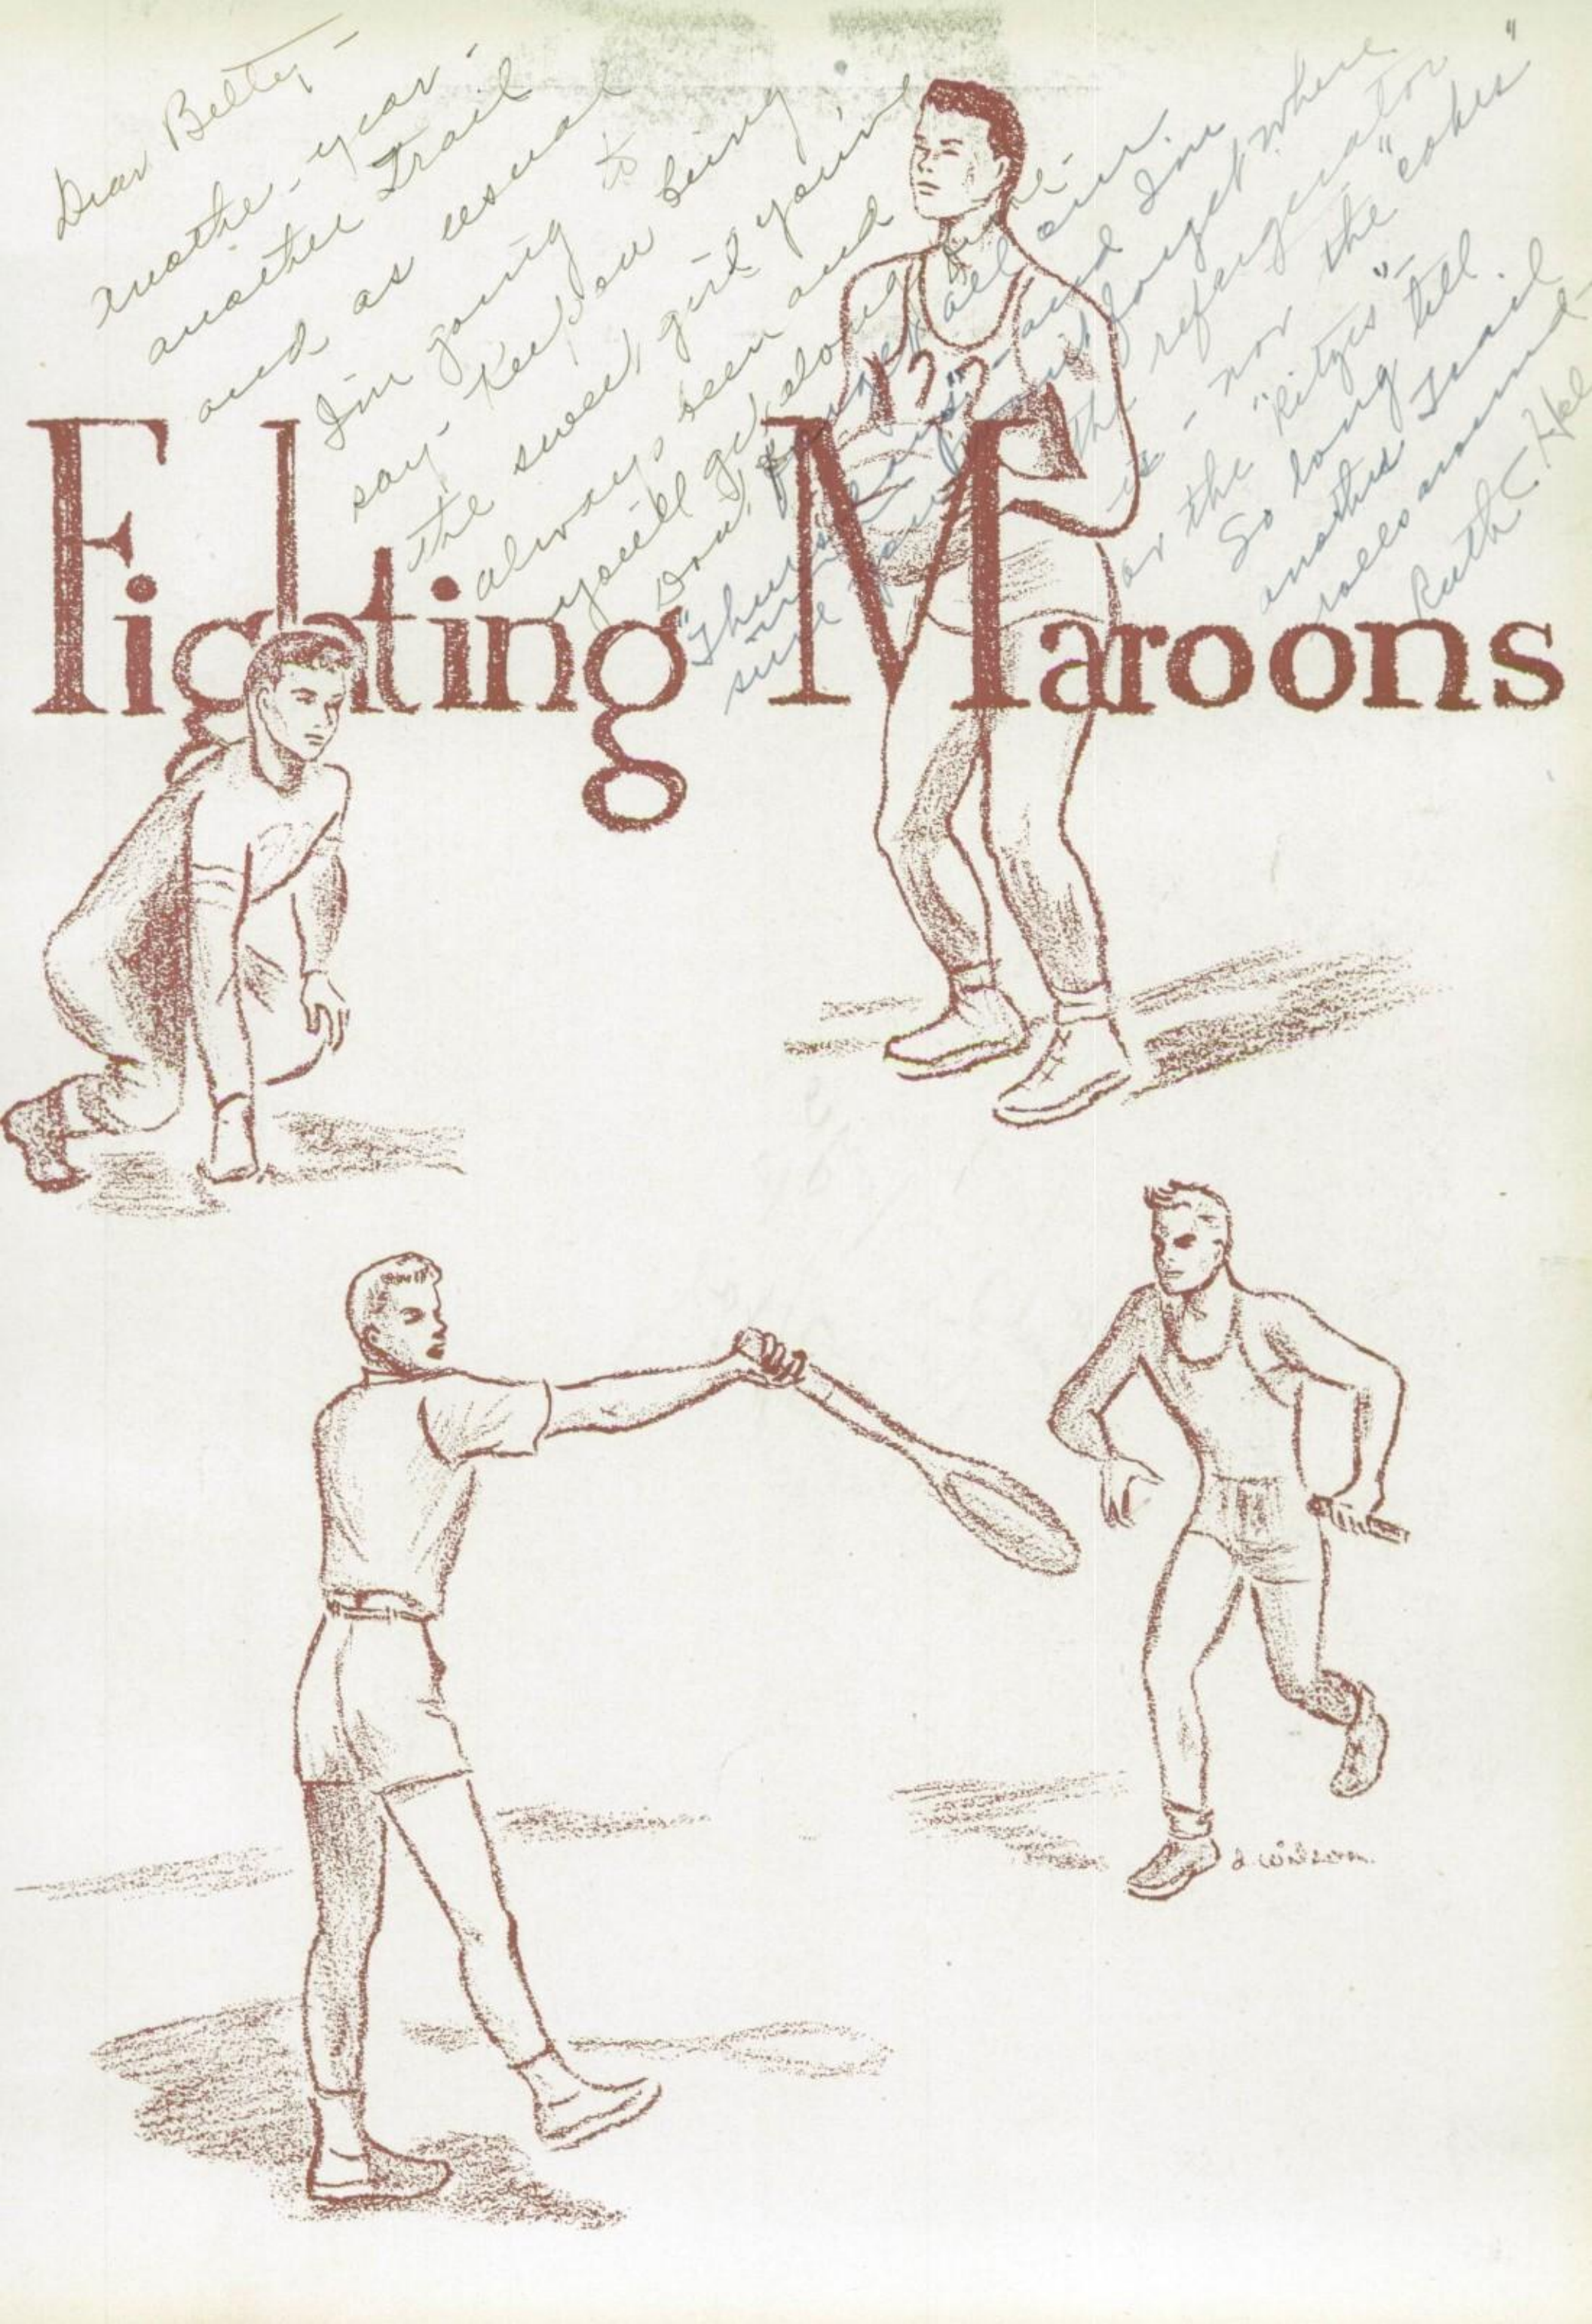
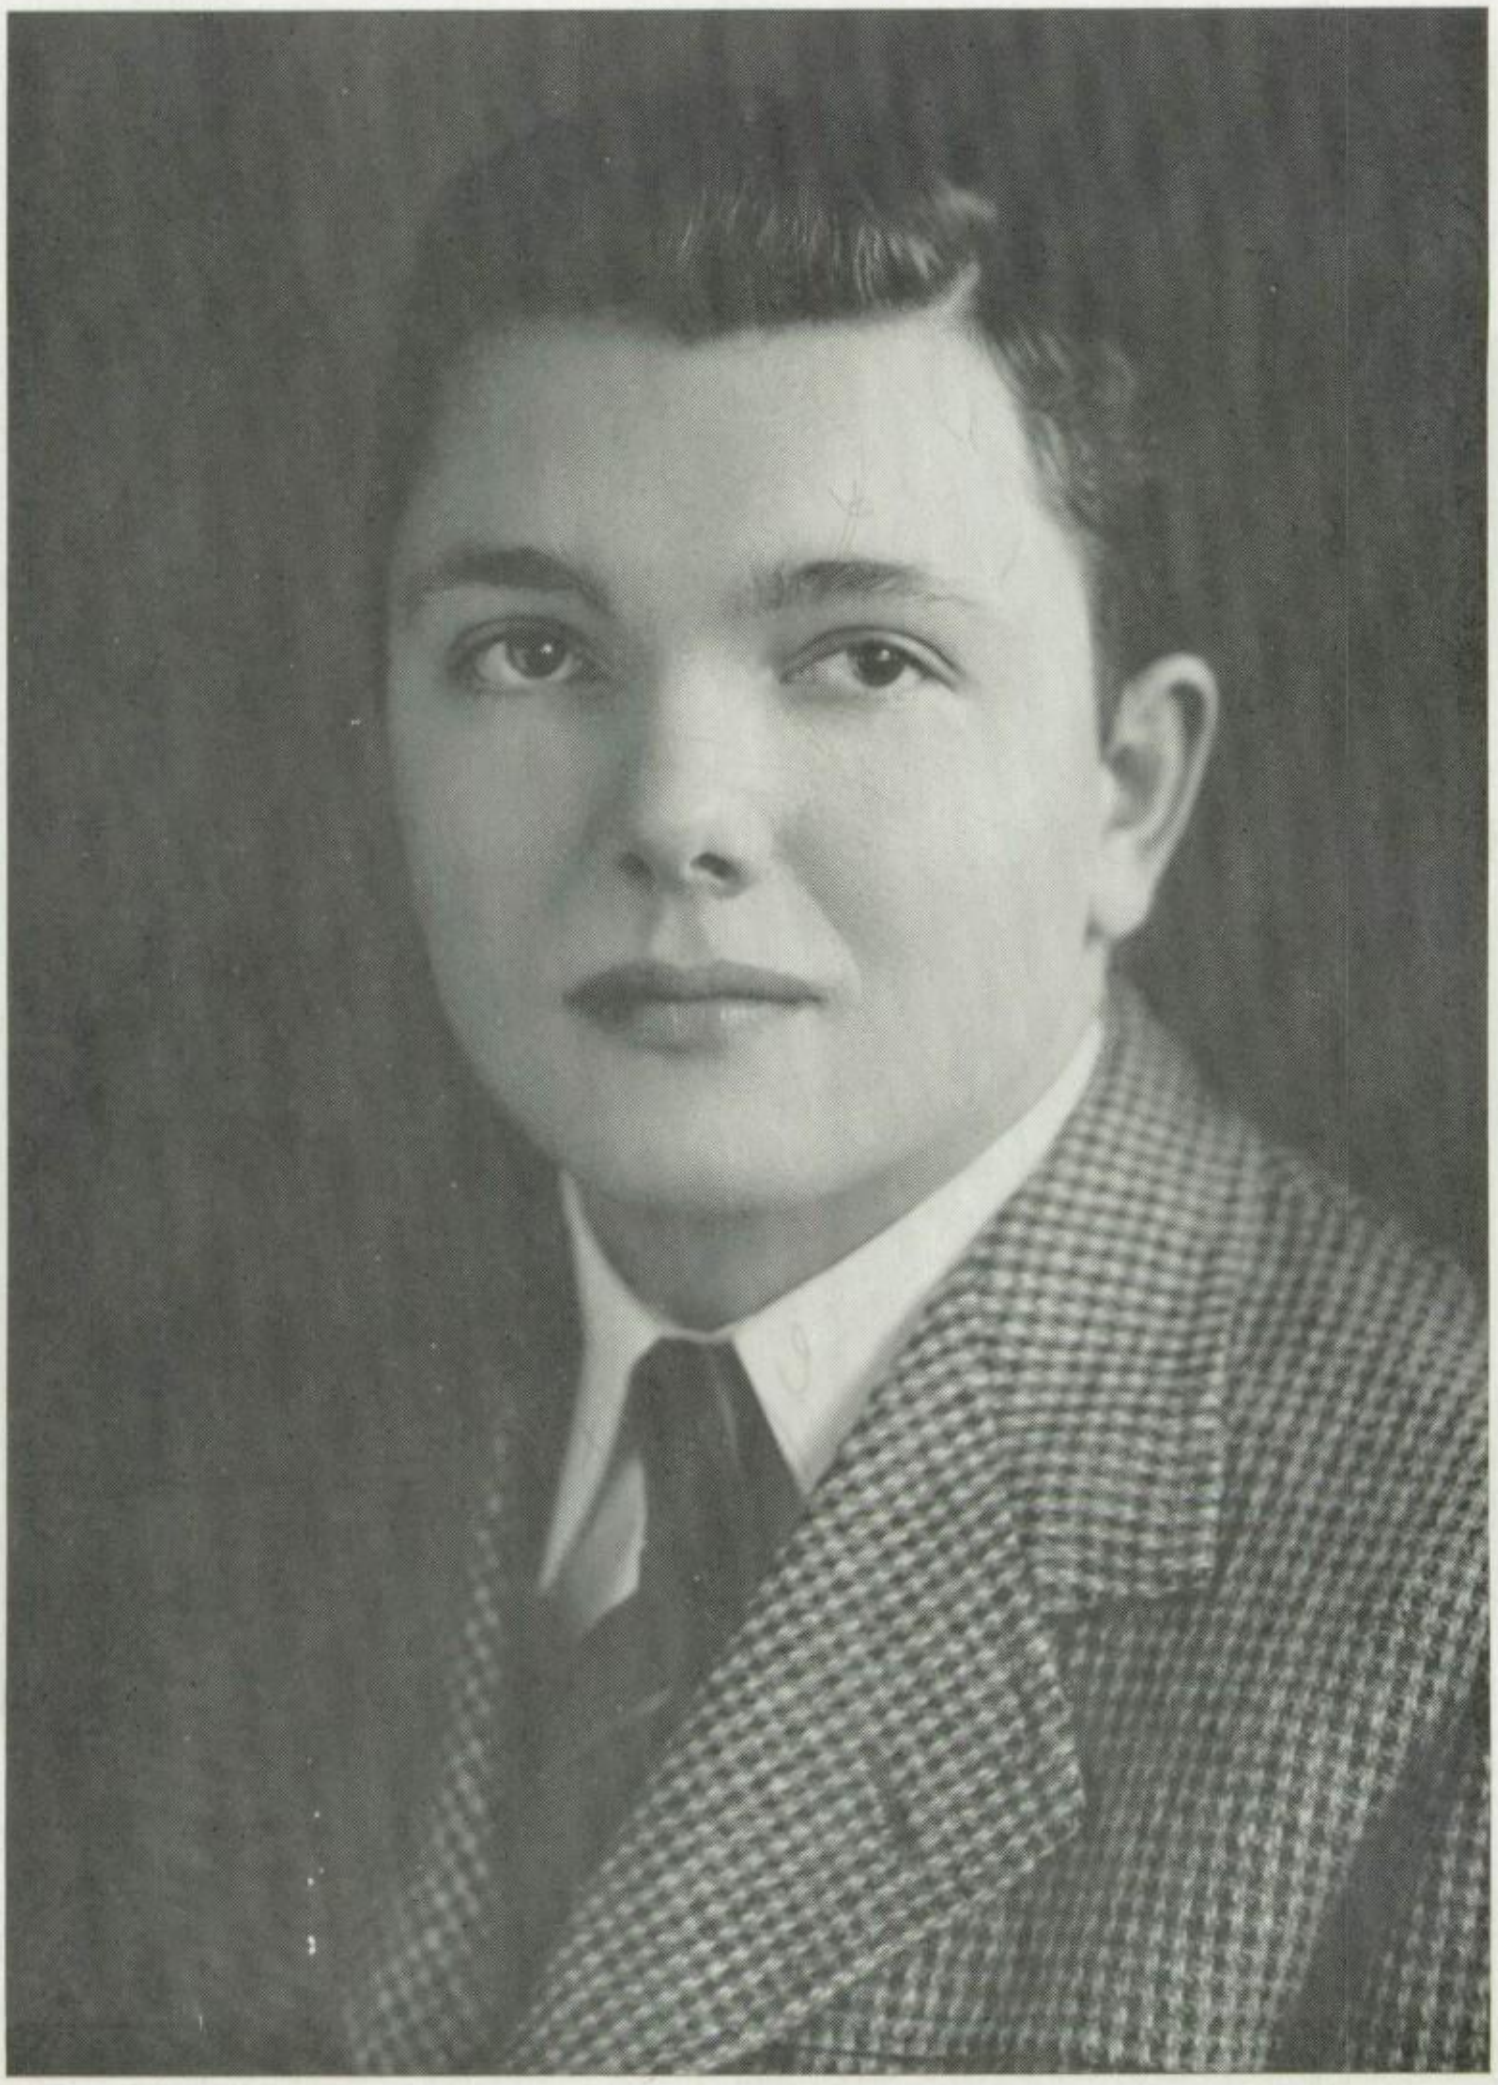
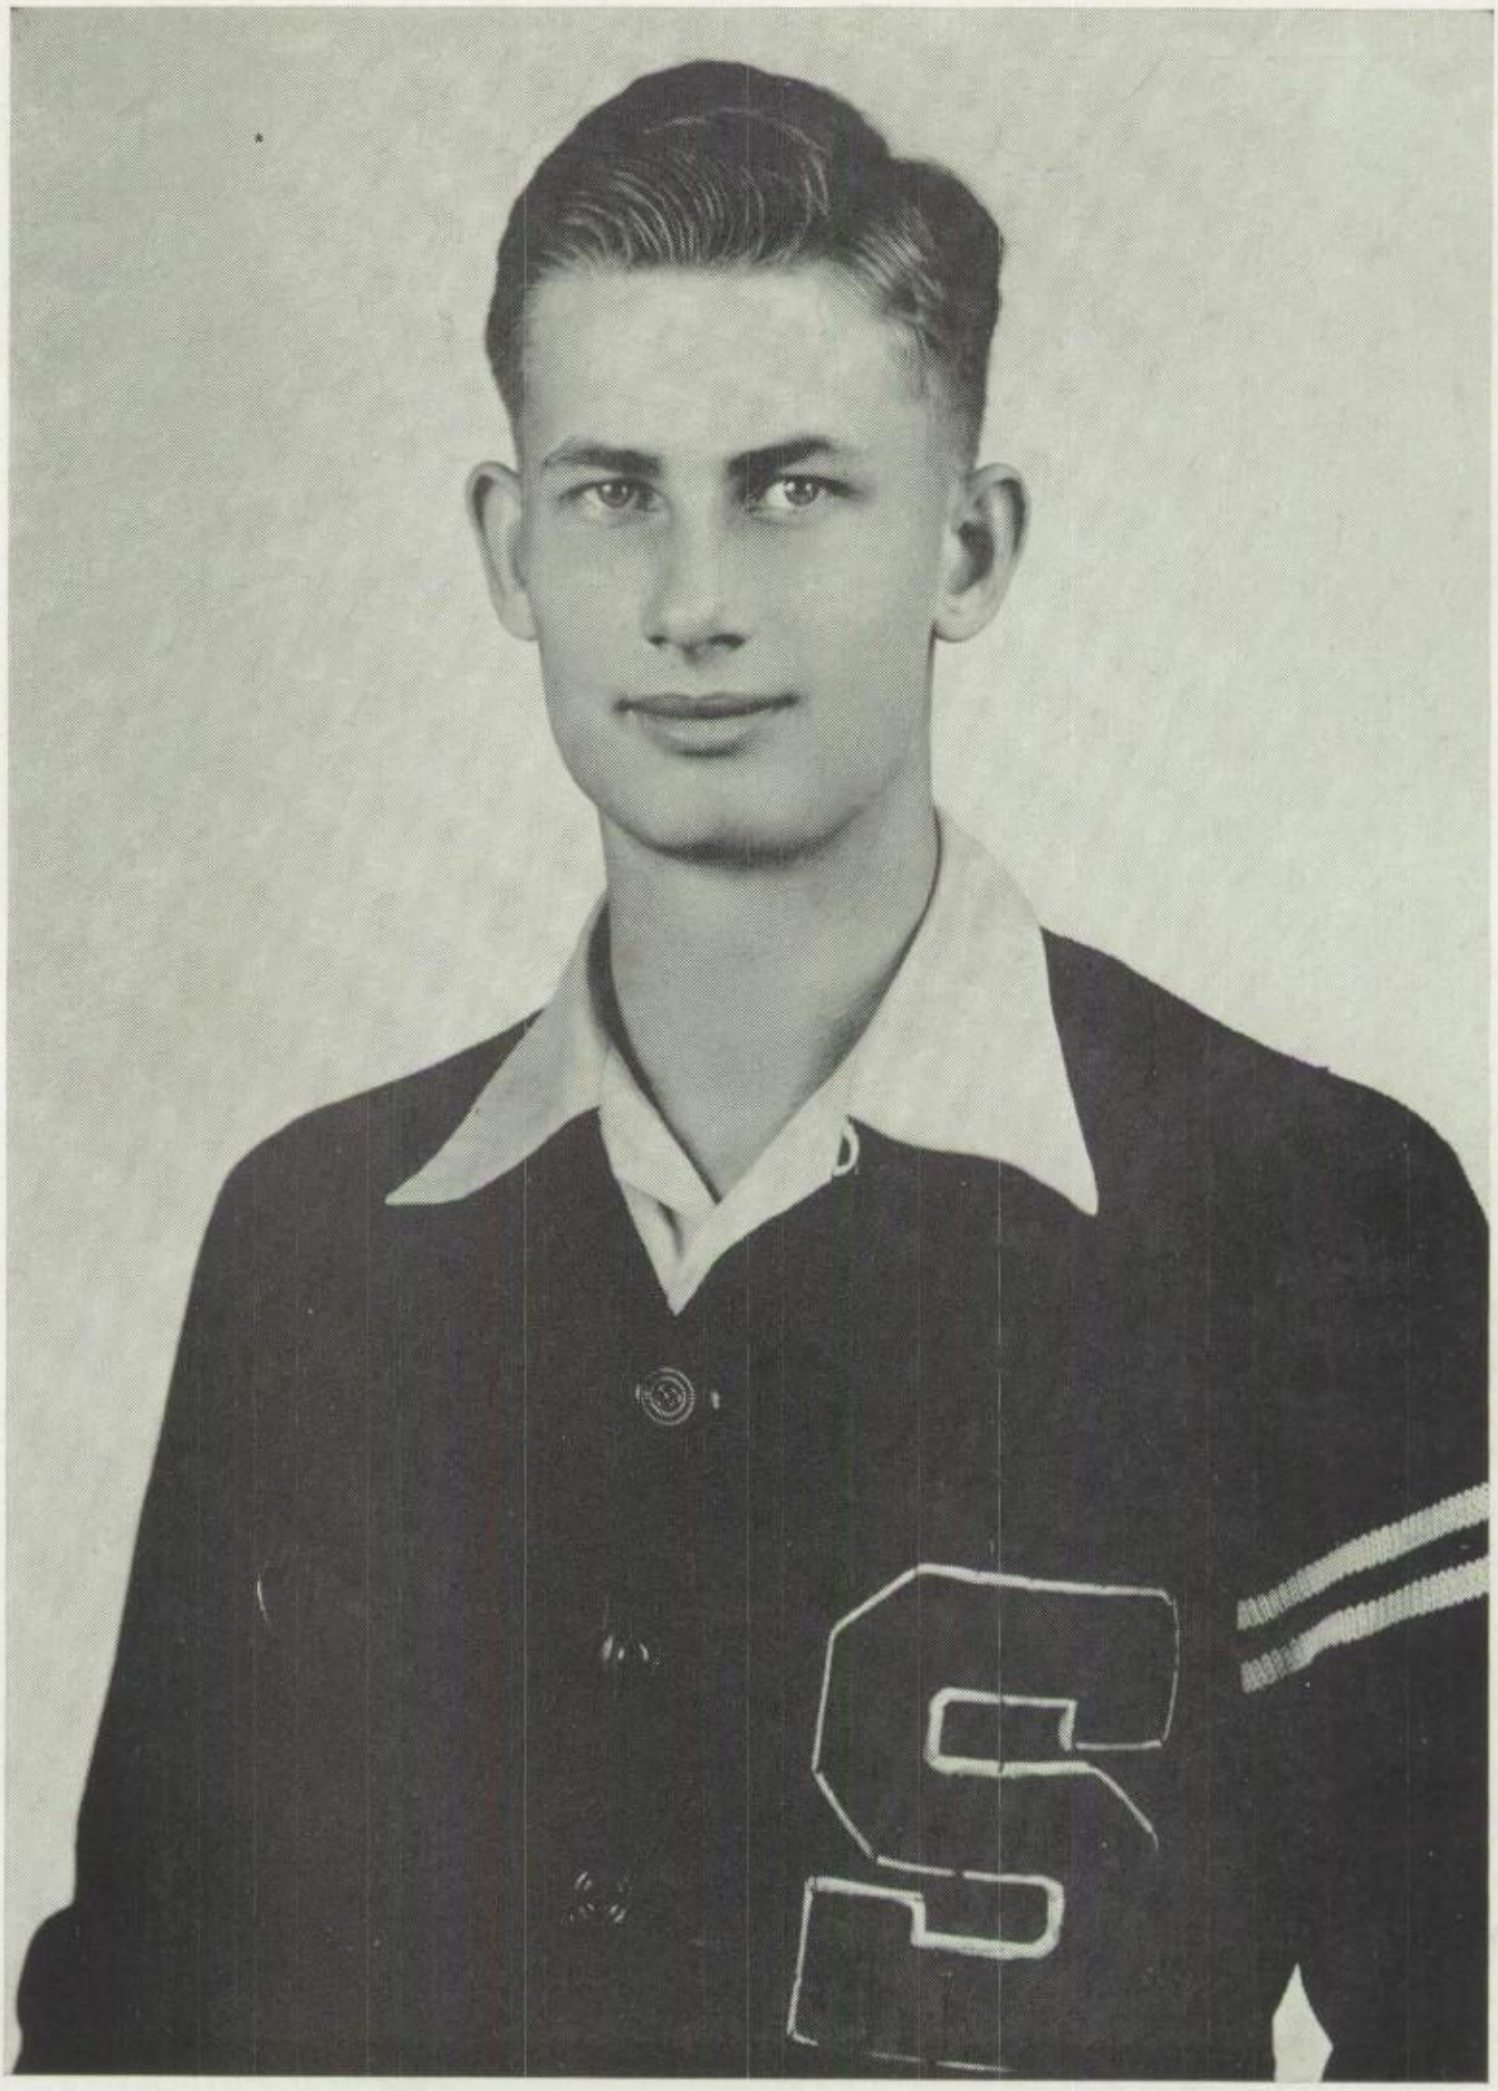
Fighting Maroons





Good Sportsman--Bud Stewart

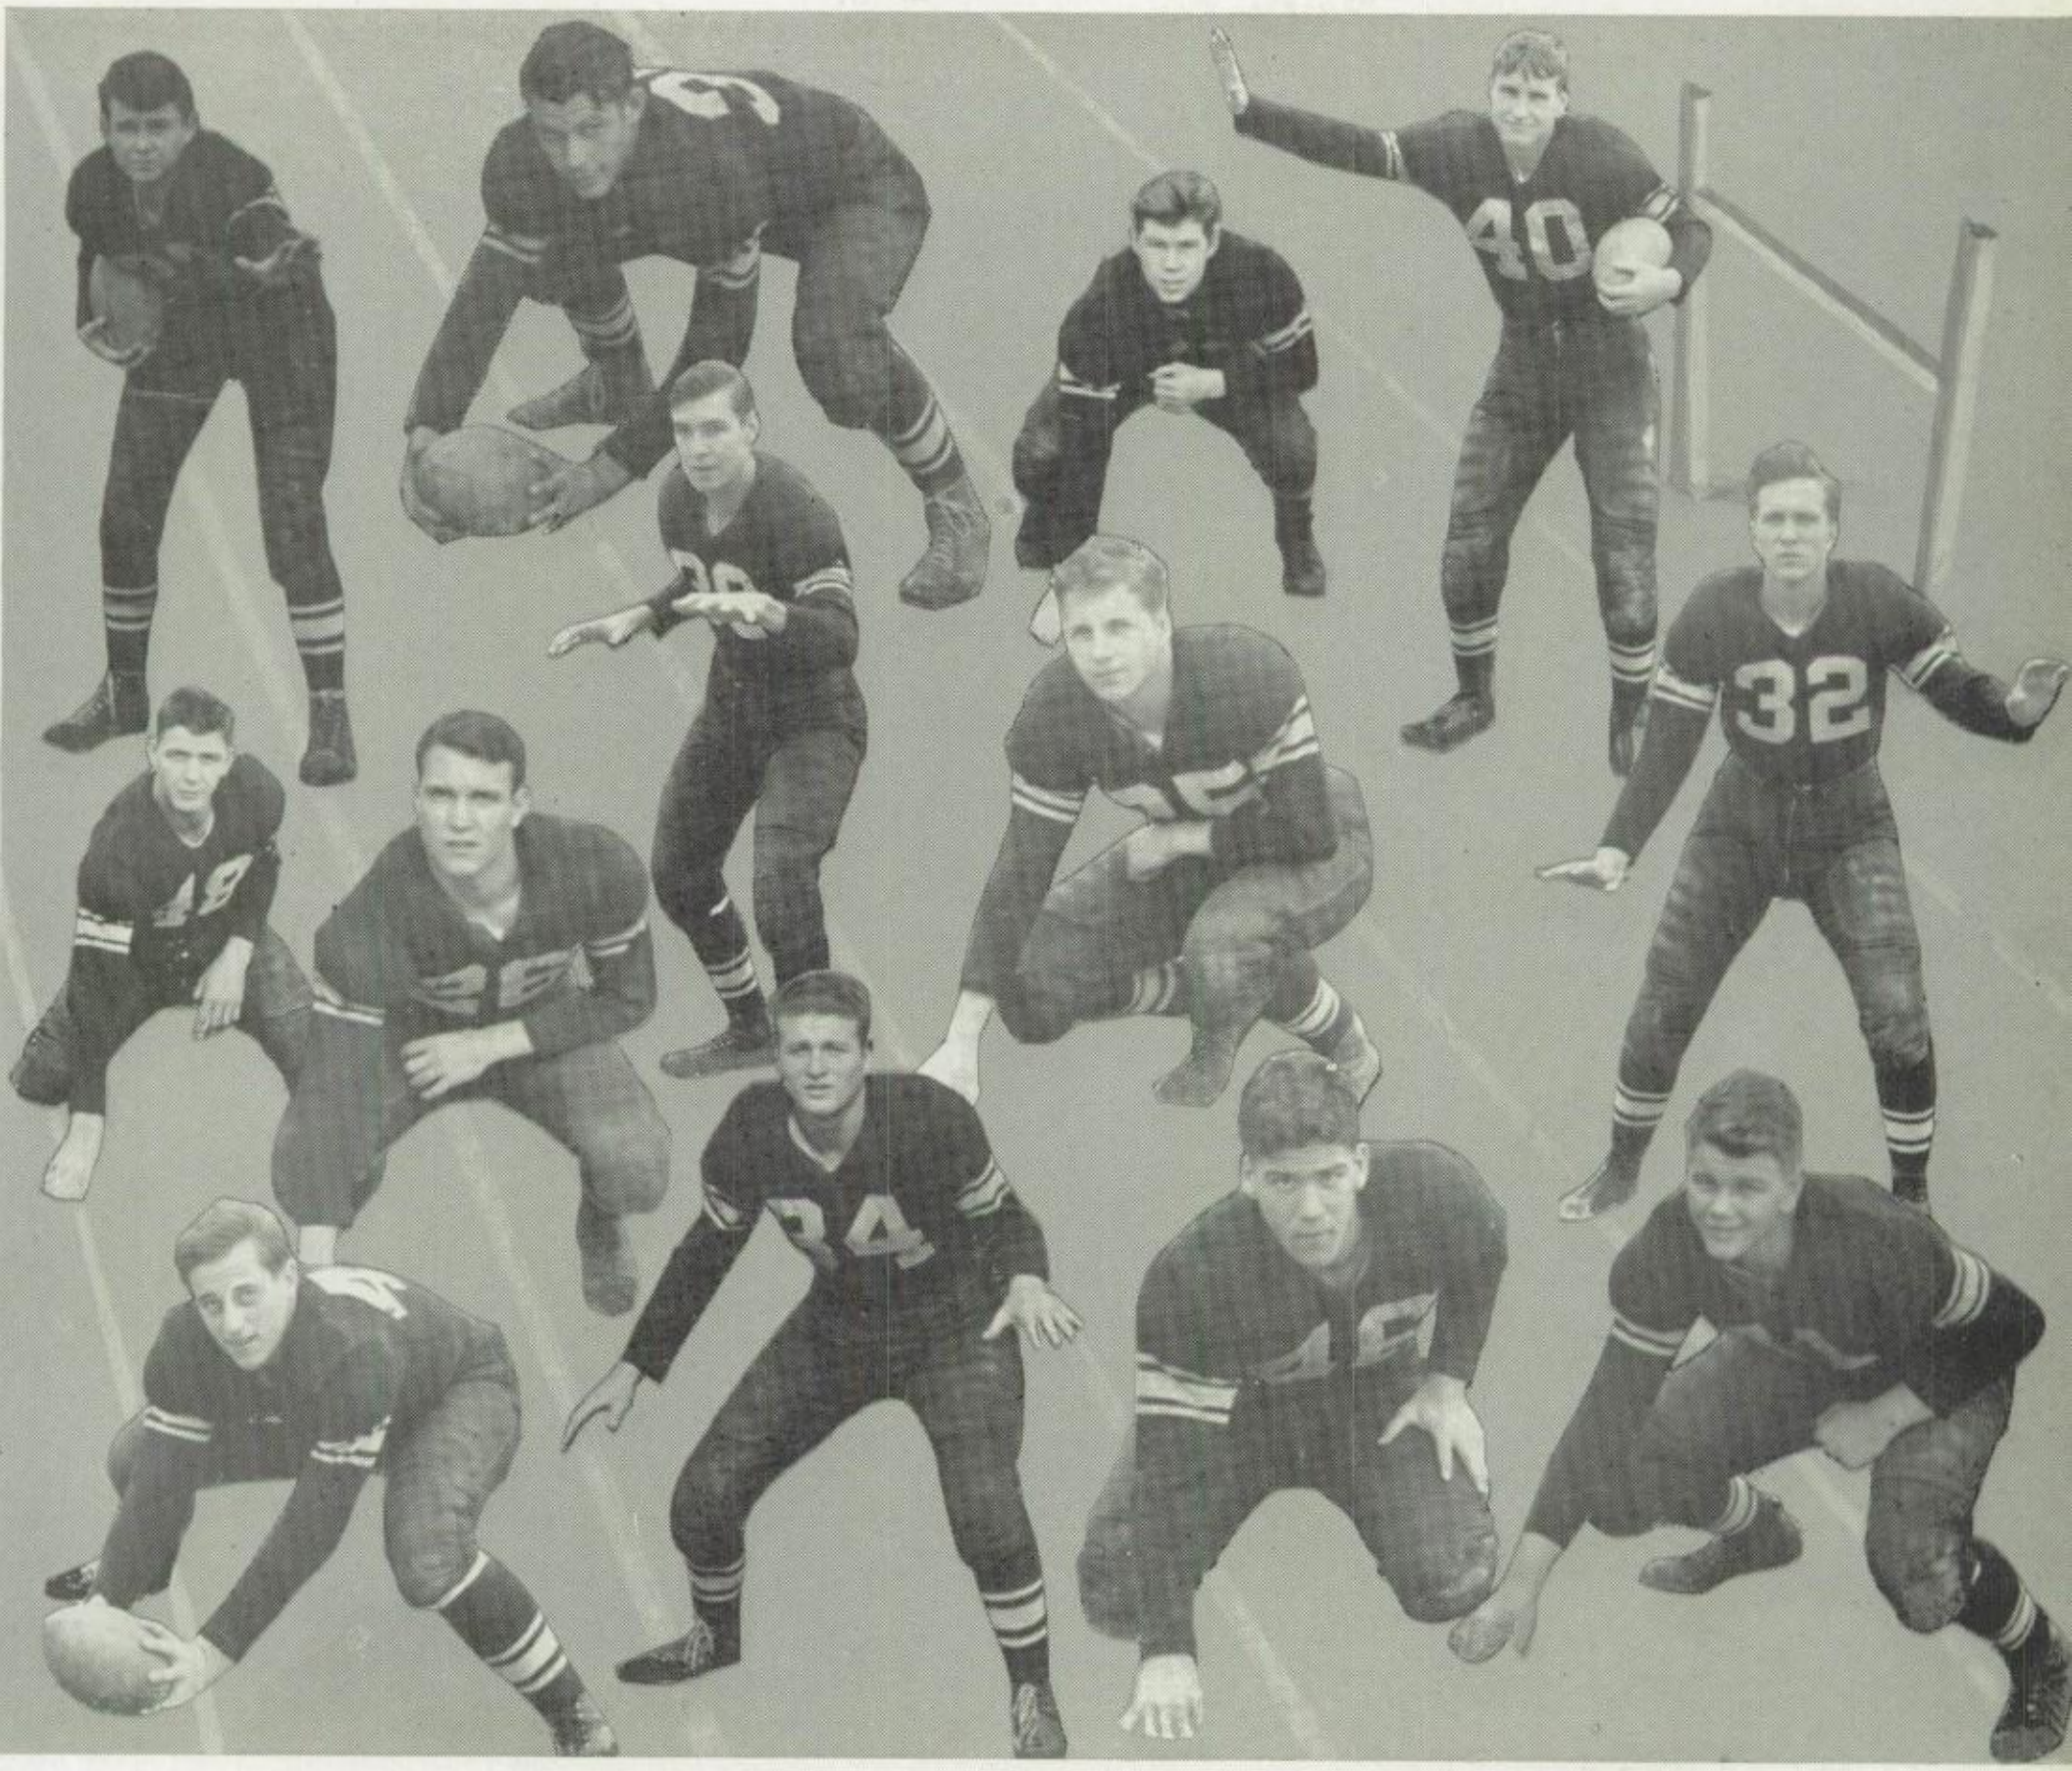
Showing more promise than almost any other athlete Salina High has ever known is Bud Stewart, who completed the freshman year with the present class of seniors. It is to him that the Trail Staff unanimously voted to dedicate the sports section of the 1943 annual. Bud lettered in track as a freshman and was outstanding in Junior High football and basketball. Every one except Bud talked enthusiastically of his ability and many decided that his choice as Most Valuable Athlete in 1943 was inevitable. Bud's highly promising athletic career was cut short by an accident September 2, 1940. Bud has always been admired and well liked by those who know him. His personality is marked by quietness and manliness. Although Bud has not attended Salina High for the past three years, he has been working out a business course by correspondence. He is still considered a member of the class of 1943.



Valuable Athlete -- Duane Nelson

Climaxing an outstanding sports career at Salina High, Duane Neison was named as the 1943 Most Valuble Athlete by the athletic board. Since their selection is based on Training, Morale, Sportsmanship, Loyalty and Record, Duane merits the award in every respect. Tagged "Squirrel" by his teammates because of his agility, Duane lettered in football, basketball, and track. His senior year brought his first football participation, but with his hustle and natural talent, "Squirrel" won a place on the first eleven, developing into the squad's best pass receiver, with his speed making him invaluable as an end. Duane was the only unanimous choice of the basketball coaches for All-C. K. L. honors. At forward he was among the league scoring leaders and was an excellent defensive player. Running the anchor on the 880 and mile relay teams, beside the century, "Squirrel" was responsible for many Maroon first places in track.

MARK FAHRING: Senior—two letters—one of best defensive ends in league—an excellent captain. GORDON MILLER: Senior—one letter—reserve guard—one of hardest hitting players on squad—remarkable team spirit. JOHN FINNEY: Junior—one letter—wingback—lots of speed and drive—will go well next year. GABE KNIGHT: Junior—two letters—fullback—did most of punting and passing—rattled opponents on line plunges. BOB KNIGHT: Freshman—one letter—tailback—big and fast— a hard tackler—should be bulwark of future teams. BOB COBB: Senior—one letter—reserve quarterback — tackled well — improved steadily throughout season—always dependable. LEONARD CARTER: Senior—two letters—guard—hard to stop on defense—good tackler. DUANE NELSON: Senior—one letter—end—tall and fast—squad's best pass receiver—first year out. DICK NOYCE: Sophomore—one letter—reserve tackle— will make fine tackle with two more seasons of action ahead. TOM TULLIS: Junior—one letter—reserve fullback—cheerful and full of spirit—will add experience next year. CHARLES HEINZE: Senior—one letter—reserve wingback—showed fine spirit, was a good tackler and improved steadily. JOHN FOLSOM: Junior—one letter—reserve tackle—heaviest man on team—will be hard to stop next year.



JACK LIPPOLDT: Sophomore—one letter—reserve tailback—displays signs of a natural athlete—fast — shifty — dependable kicker. BOB RITTGERS: Senior—one letter—never made a bad pass from center—tough line-backer on defense. BRICK TRAVIS: Senior—one letter— guard—helped back up line—good offensive down field blocker—tackled well. LEWIS TICKEL: Junior—one letter — quarterback — called signals—fast and shifty—a capable safety man. HARRY GARRISON: Senior—two letters—third all state tackle—very good blocker—especially tough on defense. RAY WHITE: Senior—one letter—reserve wingback—fastest man on squad—showed drive on reverses. LEONARD BROKAW: Junior—one letter—reserve end—should see much action next season. DON WILLIAMS: Senior—one letter—reserve quarterback—tackled hard—his signal calling always crossed up opponents. FRED KRAMER: Senior—one letter—reserve quarterback—displayed plenty of spirit and hustle. GENE RHEAULT: Junior—one letter—reserve center—will see regular action next year—always tried especially hard. PHILO FAHRING: Senior—one letter—reserve end—like brother, Mark, tough on defense—displayed fine team spirit. KENNETH CROUGH: Junior—one letter—reserve guard—will add fight and experience to team of '43. MELVILLE GRAY: Junior—one letter—plenty tough tackle—CAPTAIN ELECT, 1943—should make all state next year.

Mustang Mentors

P. L. PHILLIPPI—Coming to Salina High from Chapman four years ago, Pete has maintained the record that Salina football teams have built. Although this year's record was below average, preceding team showings were of the best. Mr. Phillippi's brand of coaching is highly regarded by both the spectators and the players. He also is track coach and assistant basketball mentor.

EDWIN E. HITCHCOCK—"Hitch" is No. 1 football scout at Salina High. His scouting has been responsible for more than one victory in the past few years. He also doubles as wrestling coach.

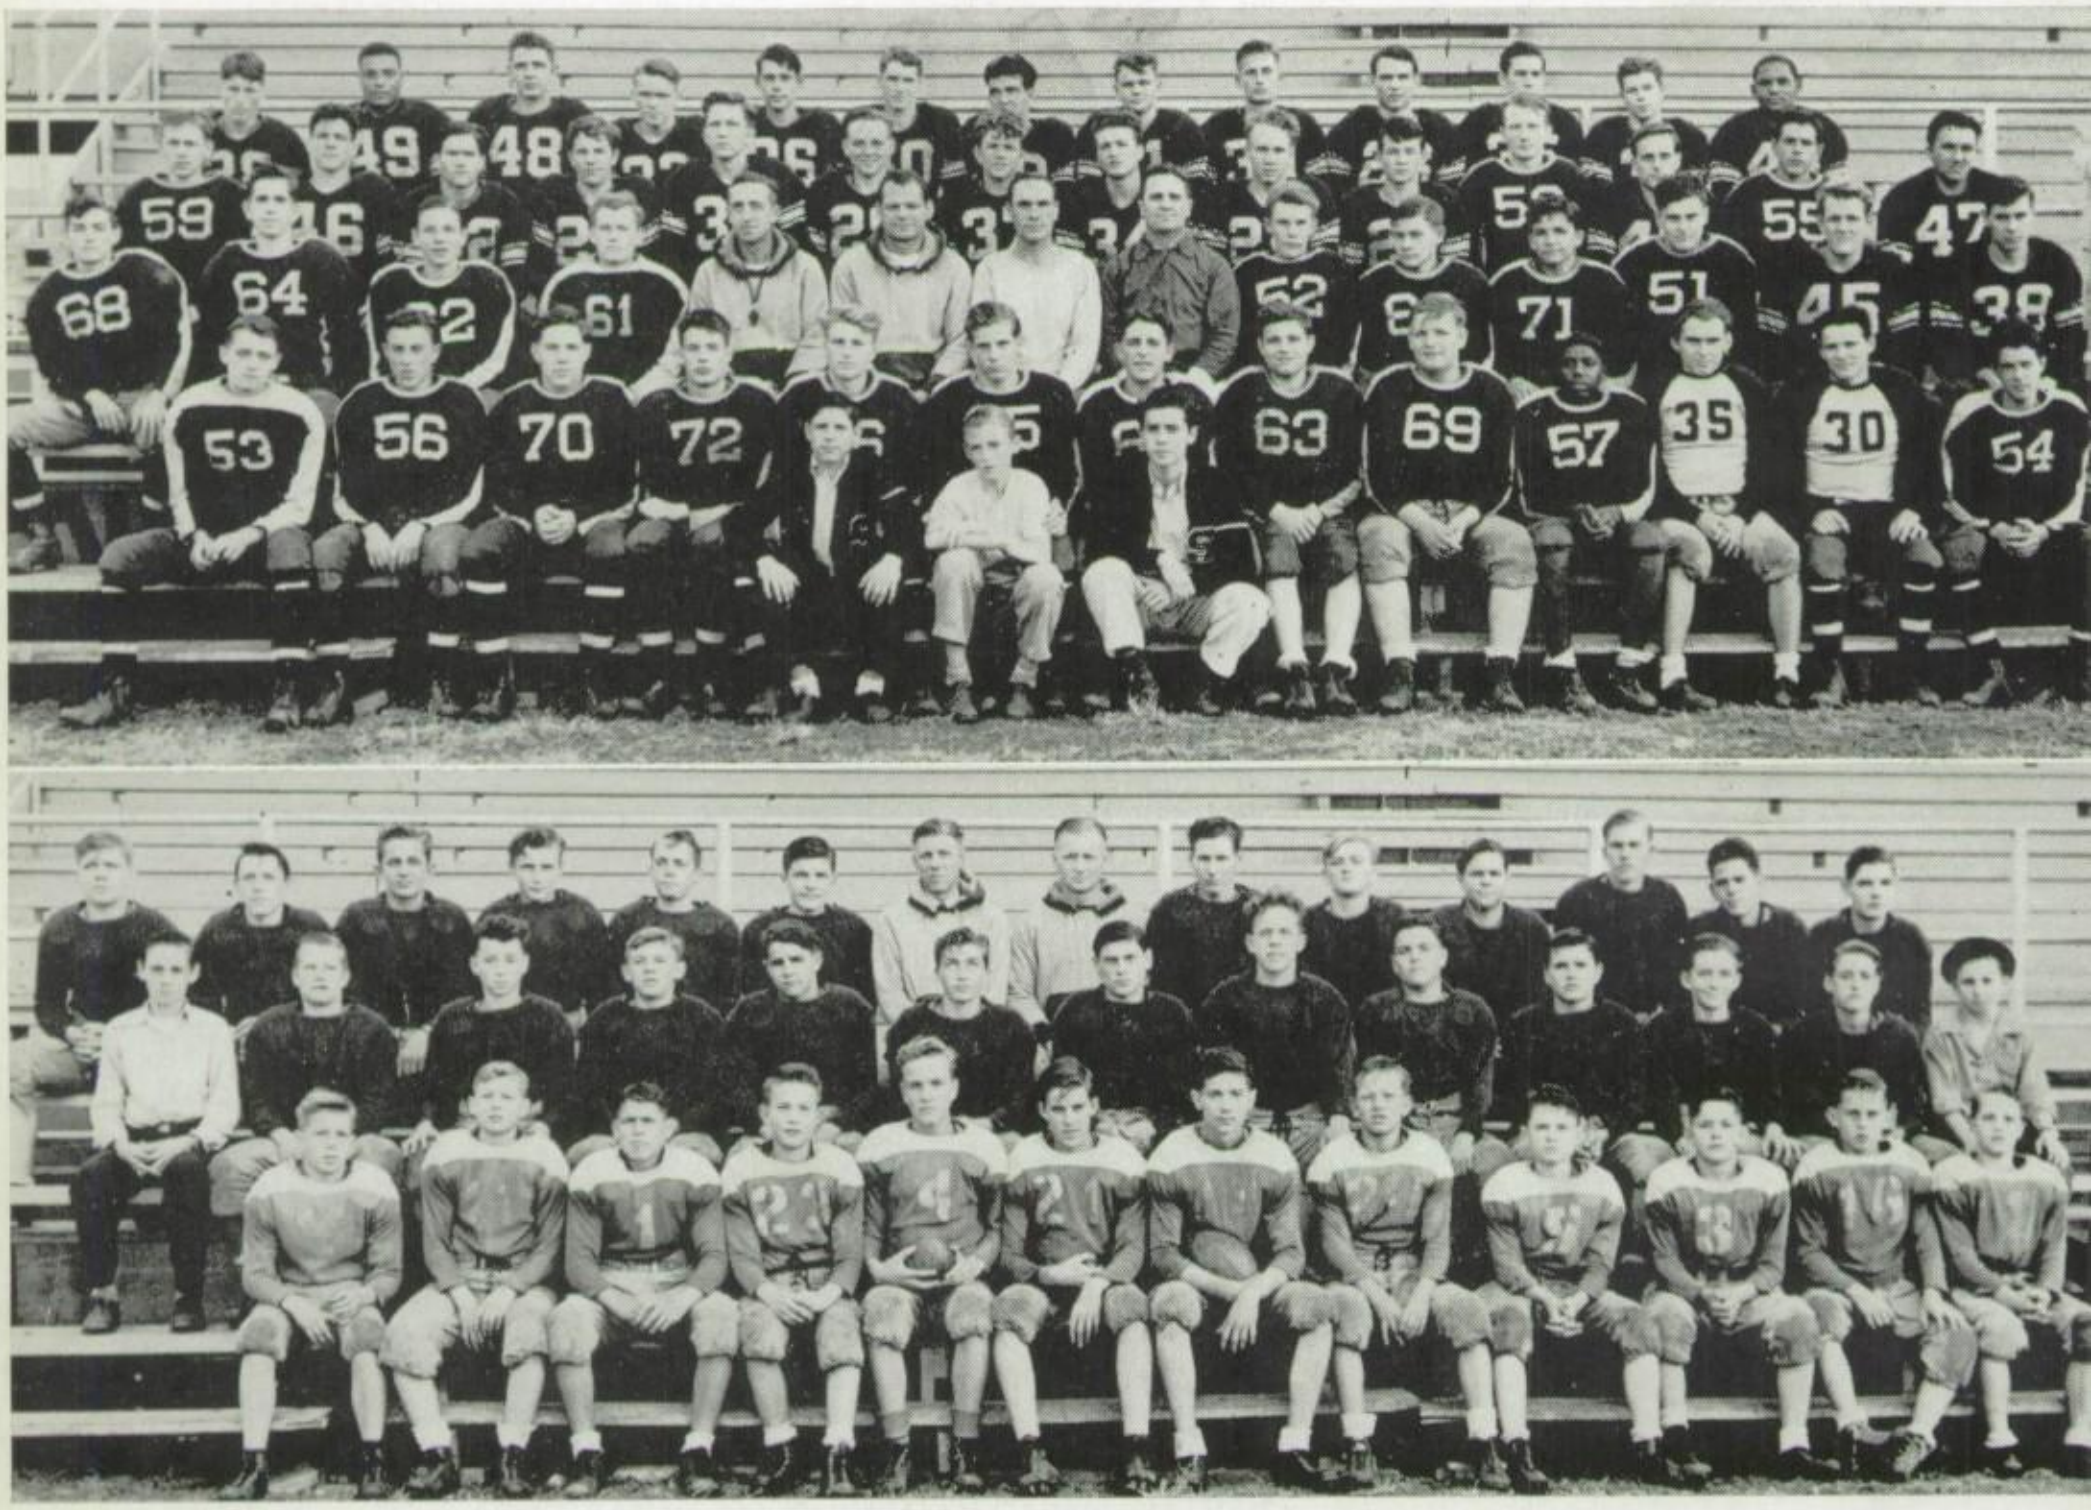
SIDNEY YOUNGQUIST—Future success of Salina athletic teams is being insured right now by the fine coaching of the Junior High teams. Sid, coach of the eighth and ninth graders, gained his coaching knowledge at Bethany where he was an All-Star lineman.

L. W. CHESNEY—As reserve material for the A squad, Mr. Chesney has consistently turned out fine "B" teams. This year, his boys did not have many scheduled games but they practiced diligently to learn football tactics.

C. O. SCOTT—"Scotty," Lincoln science teacher, aided in the training of the Junior High footballers.

N. E. ORENDORFF—This year Mr. Orendorf took over Mr. Coopers' job as assistant "B" team coach.

EARL MORRISON—As head basketball coach and athletic director at Salina High, Mr. Morrison has built up a record that can hardly be surpassed. His basketball teams rank with leaders in the state and the athletic program is one of the best. Salina High is fortunate in having such a fine basketball mentor.



Coach "Pete" Phillippi, after several successful seasons, saw his hard-working, still hustling Maroons drop into the second division. All told, the Mustangs won four of their ten games, scoring 111 points against their opponents' 114. In league play the Phillippimen won only two of the six games played but, oddly enough, outscored league opponents 65 to 47. The Maroons opened the season by winning their first three games unscored upon and rolling up 53 points for themselves. Only twice more did the Maroons overcome their luck and inexperience to such an extent as to outshow their opponents completely. Before a large homecoming crowd they defeated the Hays Indians 25 to 13, and decidedly outplayed the Junction City league champions only to lose by a heartbreaking 7 to 6. Although not wishing to alibi, we do see that there were several factors which definitely hindered the 1942 Maroons. Lack of experience was one. With only two returning regulars plus boys up from a B squad, which in the "flood" season of 1941, had played only two games, the team could hardly perform like veterans. Another factor was a noticeable absence of favorable breaks in the games. Only too often game winning goal line thrusts were erased by untimely fumbles or penalties. Despite all this, the Maroons under the able leadership of Captain Mark Fahring displayed an abundance of fighting spirit and hustle. The fall of 1943 should see an experienced squad of twelve returning lettermen, four of whom formed this year's starting backfield, following Captain Melville Gray on to a C. K. L. football championship.

Maroon Gridmen

C.K.L. Cage Co-Champs

The Salina High cagers, although handicapped this year by lack of experience, enjoyed one of the best seasons experienced by a Salina squad under the tutelage of Coach Earl Morrison. With Nelson and Knight being the only holdovers from last year's C. K. L. co-champs, this year's green Maroon squad finished the season with a 17-4 record. This was the third consecutive season Salina and McPherson have tied for the coveted cage crown. The inexperience of the Salina crew was very evident in the season's opening encounter against the Russell Broncos when the Maroons blew a five point fourth quarter lead to wind up on the tail end of a 31-24 score. Travelling to Topeka the following night, the Salina five bounced back to down a rangy Trojan team 29-24. Opening league play against the Abilene Cowboys, the Mustangs played their worst game of the season losing, 22-18. The following week, Salina's 44-24 victory over Emporia started a run of nine consecutive victories. During this period of prosperity, the Maroons downed Chapman, 33-23, upset the potent McPherson team, 31-30, on Jack Bell's post-game free throw, and trounced the Wyandotte Bulldogs, state AA runner-ups, 41-36, at one time leading 25-6. They defeated the hapless Clay Center five 51-24. Manhattan proved a stubborn opponent but fell, 43-29. The league leading Bluejays were routed by the Salina rush, 44-26. The Maroons led the league race for two weeks as they gained revenge over Abilene and again defeated Chapman. Scoring 18 in the last quarter to 0 for Abilene, the Maroons won 38-27 after trailing 20-12 at the half. Chapman was defeated 35-27. Facing the McPherson club for the second time, luck ran out on the Salina cagers as they lost 33-29. The Maroons swept through the rest of their schedule defeating Clay Center, Emporia, Manhattan, Junction City, and Topeka.

JOHN FINNEY — junior — one letter — one of the most versatile players on the squad . . . a good performance could be expected from John at either the forward or guard spots . . . his wizardry at one-handed shots pulled several games out of the fire for the Maroons, guaranteeing that he will be a valuable man on next year's squad. JACK LIPPOLDT — sophomore — one letter — a peppy litte forward, Jack was a mainstay of the B team this year and saw a good deal of A squad service . . . possessing all of the natural talents of a basketball player, he should go a long way in the next two years. GENE ANDERSON — sophomore — one letter — with two years of play remaining, Gene spent much of his time gaining experience as center of the B squad, but he also appeared in many of the first string games . . . you should hear much of this boy in the 1945 C. K. L. VERNON TRAVIS — senior — one letter — a capable and often used reserve guard, "Brick" was one of the men on whom Coach Morrison could depend if the regulars got cold . . . "Brick" was also an expert at long shots, making five of them at Clay Center. GABE KNIGHT — junior — two letters — rounding out his second year as a regular center, Gabe was the big pivot around which the play of the 1943 team revolved . . . especially good when the opposing team had the ball, Gabe was probably by far the best defensive center in the league . . . he should be invaluable next year.

. . . UP and DOWN

BOB COBB — senior — one letter — a reserve at the first of the year, Bob's prowess at long shots and rebounding brought him a regular berth in the latter part of the season . . . from his guard spot he could be counted on for several towering swishers every evening . . . he will be missed next year. DAVE BYERS — senior — one letter — a reserve forward, Dave could always be counted on to come through in a pinch, as he showed in the Maroon win over Junction City . . . being a southpaw, Dave had the advantage of being able to confuse the opposition until they understood why he was throwing with his wrong hand. LOUIS TICKEL — junior — one letter — a peppy little forward, "Poogie" was one of the big reasons for the success of the Maroon rush this season . . . his ball swiping and pass intercepting abilities were the beginning of many fast breaks . . . "Poogie" will also be back for the 1944 Mustang squad. DUANE NELSON — senior — two letters — the only senior to start regularly all season, "Squirrel" will be greatly missed next year . . . his ability at rebounding and close-in shots made him the top scoring man of the team . . . he was the only unanimous choice for all-C. K. L. honors, gaining the votes of all the league's coaches. JACK BELL — junior — one letter — a good performer at guard, Jack is another underclassman who will be back for next year's team . . . known as "poker face" or "the nonchalant kid," his steady play always kept the Maroons in the running . . . he made the last-second free throw which won the McPherson game, 31-30.

S. H. S. Grapplers

This year of 1942 and '43 brought a newcomer, amateur wrestling, into the realm of Salina High's athletic activities. Coach Ed Hitchcock carries the load of training the boys and arranging for their matches. Despite the fact that this was the first season of organized grappling for the Maroons, Salina High was honored by being selected as host to the Kansas State Wrestling Tournament held at Memorial Hall, February 26 and 27. Harry Garrison, Maroon wrestler and football tackle, was the only Salinan to place in the tourney. He won third place in the light-heavyweight division. Even though the squad could boast of only one winner in the meet, the boys very definitely had come a long way since their first practice in December of 1942. The meet was handled so well that wrestling coaches over the state asked that the event be returned to Salina in 1944. That possibility is very likely. The team opened their season with the St. John's Military Academy, whom they defeated. They next met Norton High, an experienced group of boys and were beaten. In view of their loss Coach Hitchcock stated that his wrestlers showed up very well under the conditions. Norton High has been wrestling for many seasons, and wrestling, like any other sport, must be built up by consistent practice over a period of years. Salina High and the Academy met several other times throughout the season, the largest profit coming in the experience gained by both teams. Wrestling is an excellent body-builder and is highly regarded because of the opportunities it gives for boys of all weights to participate in a high school athletic program. The outlook for the future is especially bright when the fact is brought out that the majority of boys who made up the team are underclassmen. Mr. Hitchcock plans to undertake conditioning and training early in September of next year. It should not be too long before victories for the Maroon squad begin to mount.

S. H. S. Track and Field

Track coach Pete Phillippi built this year's track squad around six returning lettermen, who were in turn bolstered by the checking out of running garb by an additional 50 boys. The Maroons in the season's opener defeated Junction City 70-62. Minneapolis then moved to Salina and were promptly beaten, 78½ - 25½. Salina High's thinclads next emerged victors in the Beloit Relays, which preceded a victory over Abilene, Chapman and McPherson in a quadrangular.

Although the two pictures on this page don't exactly suggest efficiency, they portray the staff of seniors who have worked throughout the year to publish this 1943 annual as a memorial to Salina High School and to the students who have blazed part of their trail through it. Shortages of zinc and copper engraving materials for plates, films, flashbulbs, and labor in the print shop; and price increases in nearly every item necessary in the production of a yearbook actually served as an incentive to the staff to publish the best TRAIL yet. Any commendation which might be given the work of the group should go first to Art Editor Dorothy Wilson, who is responsible for the "typical-of-school life" drawings found throughout this 1943 Trail and to Business Manager Bob Merrick, who took over the financial end of the project and supervised the selling of the advertising, under the sponsorship of J. H. Groth. Joyce Vanier, photography editor; Brick Travis, sports editor; Mary Louise Carl, activities editor; and Mary Vermillion, associate editor, were all indispensable in their fields and Ye Ed-in-Chief was there, of course, offering useless advice and messing up things in general. Credit must also go to all of the journalism students who helped by contributing snapshots, writing copy, reading proof, and providing ideas. The staff is especially indebted to C. F. Lebow, who truly contributed a lot by taking many of the pictures for this year's book and making them at such a reasonable charge that the photography item barely nicked the budget. The excellent job of printing and binding is to be credited to the boys in the printing department under the sponsorship of Roland A. Cox.

TRAIL STAFF

S. H. NEWS STAFF

Despite war worries and priority perplexities which vexed all newspaper publishers and overwhelmed many, the Salina High News of '42-'43 continued its pre-war policy by printing a regular size paper.

Although the world conflict had little effect on the size of the NEWS its presence could be detected by the reader. Considerable space was devoted to articles concerning the Victory Corps, various scrap drives, Bond sales and contests, and other projects relative to the war effort.

Any organization that functions effectively must have cooperation among its parts. This years' NEWS staff showed that necessary cooperation. The editorial staff, the feature staff under their editor Dorothy Wilson, and news staff headed by Joyce Vanier and Mary Vermillion, all worked together for the common objective. A new high in advertisements sold was reached this year through the work of George Adams, advertising manager, and his assistant, Bob Reed.

CHORUS

The Washington vocal department, enrolling seventy members during the first semester in the fourth and fifth hour classes under the direction of Paul Ryberg, has been very active throughout the year rehearsing and presenting entertainments for school groups, civic clubs, KSAL broadcasts, and the general public.

Work got underway the first week of school on the Gilbert and Sullivan one-act comic operetta, "Trial by Jury". Mary Howard, Russell Duncan, Bob Hagler, Don Willgus, Fred Kramer, and Dave Byers were chosen for the leads and the operetta was presented October 26-27 in Lincoln auditorium before high school and general public audiences. Following this the cast and chorus took the show to Luray, Kansas, for a presentation, gave it for the Soldier Center audience in Blair Hall of the Presbyterian Church, and the second week in November the principals in the cast sang their solo and group numbers for the Salina Rotary Club.

In addition to this major project, the vocal music groups prepared and presented many new and rehearsed old numbers for programs at Camp Phillips, the Smoky Hill Air Field, the November State Teachers Association program, school assemblies, and church services. A weekly program for the fifth hour chorus was the Tuesday afternoon KSAL broadcast.

Climaxing the most successful season in many past years, the Salina High School debaters won for themselves the distinction of being the third best debate squad in Kansas at the state tournament held at Kansas University last February, missing the second place trophy by a hairbreath margin. Among the other laurels attained by the Maroon arguers were victories in the C. K. L., the first by a Salina team in nine years, and in the district, which entitled them to attend the state tournament. Besides these contests the debaters attended tournaments at Lawrence, Hays, Hutchinson, Wellington and Wyandotte High in Kansas City. In addition they sponsored the Salina invitational debate tournament and participated in it, although they did not compete for the prizes. The four-speaker team which made the trips to the C. K. L., District, and state tournaments was Dody Francis and Donna Jean Henry, affirmative, and Don Clingan and Jim Smith, negative. Throughout the year this group of four won 55 debates and lost only 16. The remainder of the squad attended many of the other tournaments, with Coach Carlile taking almost the entire debate group to Hays, where the total record was more than two-thirds of the debates won.

Girl Reserve Cabinets . . .

The Golden days of the Washington and Lincoln Girl Reserves of 1942-43 will long be remembered as happy and profitable ones. The success of the Washington organization, led by its sponsors, Miss Dorothy Andrews and Miss Margaret Carpenter, is due to the membership as a whole more this year possibly than ever before because of the service work accomplished by the various committees. Among the service projects were the making and hanging of a Service Flag dedicated to S. H. S. boys in World War II, making scrapbooks for hospitals and army camps, hemming tea towels for hospitals and Y. W. C. A., providing potted plants for shut-ins, decorating the U. S. O. club for special occasions, and collecting coat hangers and magazines for army camps.

The monthly Hour of Charm programs were again highlights of the Washington G. R. throughout the year. As in the past two years this activity was sponsored by the project committee of the Washington P. T. A.

The membership dues and the candy sales at the home football games provided funds for financing the club activities.

The outstanding program of the Lincoln Girl Reserves was the annual Christmas Vespers. This lovely service was presented in the Lincoln auditorium on the Sunday before Christmas, with the music and devotional program provided by the Lincoln Girls Glee Club under the direction of Mr. Ryberg. Under the sponsorship of Miss Edyth Smith and Miss Edith Herzog, the club members held regular meetings each Wednesday of the school year, with one-act plays, quiz programs, music, and talks by guest speakers as the features. An outstanding social meeting of the year was the covered dish supper at the Y. W. C. A., following which the girls sewed together the knitted squares for afghans to be given to the hospitals at Camp Phillips and the Smoky Hill Air Field.

As a means of raising money for carrying out their program for the year, members of the club sold candy bars at school during the noon hour and after school. In addition to knitting the afghan squares, the Lincoln Club's service activities included the purchasing of door chimes for the Y. W. C. A. cottage, the collection of coat hangers for the army camps, and the annual Thanksgiving and Christmas donation of baskets of fruits and canned goods.

V-mail to Kelly

May 28, 1943

Dear Kelly,

Well, Kelly, it's been a year and a half since you left, and a lot of water has gone under the bridge between that eventful day when you felt the long finger of Uncle Sam upon you and our graduating day. This year has been a full one—with lots of new activities intermingled in the old. We'll try to start at the beginning and tell you all. If we miss a few things, just check it up to those poor memories of ours . . . you had us in class—you know all about them!

Everyone came trouping back to the little red schoolhouse by the river, eager to renew old friendships and form fresh ones. The boys came with suntanned faces and bleached crew cuts, their pockets full of money from a summer of working on construction gangs at the cantonment and air base. The girls returned from jobs and out-of-town, both glad and sad to start their last year at Salina High. In the opening assembly new faces scattered among the students and faculty reminded us that Salina no longer maintained the stable population of past years. From then on, we knew that school had really begun.

The school buzzed with talk of Superintendent Hawkes' departure. When he left to take up his position as a captain in the Army Air Corps, Mr. Waring stepped into his shoes. Mr. Hodgson was advanced to high school principal, while Mr. Cooper took the reins at Washington building.

The whole school started out their patriotic activities with a keylection consisting of 10,000 keys, which rated a letter of thanks from Fulton Lewis, Jr., himself. Our scrap drive brought in everything from an antique musket to the door from an ancient flivver.

The C. K. league football season opened with a victory for Salina High against McPherson, and school spirit ran riot. At our home-coming game Oct. 16 three fine examples of S. H. S. pulchritude were displayed. Norma Reed was queen with Ann Collins and Maxine Dalton attending her. Norma also was our first fem Student Council President.

The first high school production of the year was the Gilbert and Sullivan operetta, "Trial by Jury" given Oct. 27, at Lincoln auditorium. The cast made a tour to Luray on November 2, and an enjoyable time was reported to have been had by all. You really should have been here for that, Kelly.

The Jive Club (Dave and Jerry) put on the after-game dances this year, supplemented by Saturday-night dances given by Amos Jay and his Orchestra, all at the K. of C. Hall.

The school felt a definite loss when Miss Moore resigned—after twenty-two years she had become practically a part of the school, and it seemed strange without her. Our old friend Margaret Walker came over from Lincoln to take her place teaching junior English.

"Maid's Night Out" was this year's junior play, with Teresa June Norton and Donald Clingan in the leads. For the first time in years it was brought back to the Washington stage.

All along, patriotism was not neglected—the Girl Reserves had a new program of service projects this year, and provided various things for Camp Phillips and the Smoky Hill Air Base. The All-Girl Orchestra, which made its debut with its vari-colored formals and bright music stands on Dec. 15, played several concerts at both of the Salina military camps.

Christmas vacation was largely a stay-at-home affair, thanks to the transportation problem. A few lucky souls sneaked away, but the majority of us loafed those ten lovely days away right here in Salina.

Of course going back to school from Christmas vacation is always a dismal task; believe me, it would take an iron constitution to plunge cheerfully from a New Year's Eve hangover into semester reviews!

Second semester was accompanied by the new physical fitness program, compulsory gym for the boys and advisory for the girls. (An alarmingly small number of girls turned out, to the chagrin of the authorities). Your dear old Little Theater, Kelly, is now a gym, filled with hanging ropes, and the scene of many an hour of calisthenics. Of course, you remember the Gay Nineties Review?—there's been a lot happen in that room since those hectic days!

The freshmen and sophomores started a bond-and-stamp drive second semester and believe me, they're showing their patriotism in the way that really counts!

Our debaters came through the C. K. L. and regional debate tourneys with flying colors, and for the first time since 1934, entered the state tournament. We felt quite proud of our team, consisting of Dody Francis, Donna Jean Henry, Donald Clingan, and Jim Smith.

Feb. 16-17 a two-day military science course was held at Memorial Hall, and the boys who attended it brought back a most amazing game, which was the rage among the able-bodied males all spring. (Incidentally, the percentage of able-bodied males grew noticeably smaller after each game.) The name of this game was Buck the Bear, and the main principle seemed to be to break the other fellow's back before he broke yours.

With gas rationing on, the study hall soon became a refuge for numerous noon-hour lunchers. In fact, it overflowed, and a certain portion of its overflow formed themselves into an all-male society, known as "Wolves International," complete with chief wolf, den mother, and a constitution, which met each noon in the journalism room. Every week they conferred upon some fortunate girl the dubious honor of being "Bag of the Week." This girl was allowed to eat with the pack on Wednesday noon. At the height of their glory, however, they disbanded by request, due to an unfortunate state law concerning high school fraternities.

We sacrificed another one of our favorite teachers for the cause when "Skippy" Sites, after twenty-three years of teaching high school students that K is potassium and Ag is silver, left for Manhattan to teach physics to the air cadets.

On March 13, four nervous boys; namely, David Eckelman, Bob Geis, Fred Morgan, and Richard Lippoldt, took the Summerfield Scholarship tests. These were not the only ones to take important tests this year. Quite a number of our seniors have become members of the Reserve Army Air Corps, and Navy Air Corps, etc. by that very means. On April 2, 45 senior boys took V-12 tests for the Army Specialized Training Program and the Navy College Training Program.

March 25-26-27 brought the State Basketball finals to Salina, though our own team wasn't participating. Shawnee Mission came out on top of the heap Saturday night. Salina High's team was co-champion of C. K. L., won the regional, but was unluckily defeated in the semi-finals at Hutchinson.

The traditional April Fool's paper came out the first . . . one big joke, entitled, "G. I. No. 2056—XX—13 '.

This year we went back to "Say It With Music"—and it was a big success! It was given April 9 and the chorus absolutely out did themselves.

Prom this year — or should I say "prom?"—was a semi-formal affair—that is, long dresses were optional for the girls—but then, you know how girls are when they have a chance to wear formals! It was a dance and carnival, similar to last year's given at Memorial Hall.

After lengthy debates over the question "Resolved: We Should have a Senior Play" the affirmative won out, and the grand production "Ever Since Eve" was given May 4. We know you know the play, and we certainly wish you could have been here to see the excellent performance given.

Well, Kelly, with the exception of those last things, Baccalaureate and Class Day, that's about all there is to tell. Salina's been a new town this year, with lots of men in uniforms, and lots of their friends and relatives, too, but underneath it's the same old place—too big to be a little town, and too little to be a big town . . . just Salina, and we're all glad that's where we went through school, and we wish we could do it all over again.

We have to go graduate now. When we come back we'll have a diploma to show for it all. Goodbye, Kelly, and Good Luck!

Love,

The 1943 Senior Studes.

Class '38

Many graduates of Salina High are serving in Uncle Sam's navy, the navy air corps, the army, the army air corps, and allied branches of the service. The seniors of 1943 dedicate this page of their Trail to those graduates, boys and girls who enjoyed the fun and cherished the friendships of their GOLDEN SCHOOL DAYS at Salina High. Among the many grads in uniform are three who have already given their lives in the fight for the right to enjoy the Four Freedoms: Ray Menish, who enlisted in the Royal Air Force, was reported missing is action in the summer of 1941. Jim Hiller, aviation cadet, was killed during a training flight late in December of 1942, and Earl Ripley, army air corps, lost his life in a plane crash in the spring of 1942. May this page in the 1943 Salina High Trail stand as a memorial to these graduates and to all other students and alumni of S. H. S. who are and will be giving their services in this Second World War.

Capt. Charles E. Hawkes

Representing Salina High faculty members in service is Captain Charles E. Hawkes, superintendent of Salina schools since 1938, who left in September of 1942 for training in the army air corps. Other faculty members in service are Pfc. Jack Kelly, Lt. William B. Bracke, Sgt. Leigh DeLay, Sgt. Leslie Neywick, and 1st Class Specialist in U. S. Navy, Harold J. Froning.

S. H. S. Helps Uncle Sam . . . . . .

It was a sad day for Japan when they bombed Pearl Harbor; for when they declared war on the United States, they not only took on the armed forces, but also millions of high school students who were eager to help their country. Salina High has certainly not been outdone in this measure as is illustrated in the picture below showing a few of the classes that have been organized to help the war effort and train the boys of the school for military service. Instruction has been given in welding, metal working, automotive mechanics, aeronautics, laboratory technicians, higher mathematics and other subjects vital to preparation of youth and adults for the all out war effort. With the second semester came the additional physical education classes to promote the physical fitness program, compulsory for boys and recommended for girls. In connection with this program, an obstacle course was set up in City Park and workouts here, supplemented by distance runs through Oakdale Park, toughened up the school's "jellys" so that they could serve their country and themselves better when they will be called. To help finance the war, the Washington Hi-Y, Lincoln activity groups, and Roosevelt home rooms sponsored weekly sales of War Bonds and Stamps. Although all groups did well, the Lincolnites outdid all the rest through their contest conducted during February, March, and April between freshmen and sophomores. Their total sales reached $20,-267.35 by May 1. The spirit toward all wartime activities was excellent since the students felt that they were fighting the war for their own future.

Dear Fitz

It grieves me deeply to have to mutilate the poor captain here, but since you ordered me to do so, I will (I'll be taking orders plenty soon, very soon). No remarks please!!!!!!!

Right now I am in a quandary, I can't seem to [illegible] any efficiency [illegible] self [illegible] enough. Oh, wonderful, I just thought of something to write home about, I forgot it.

There will be one thing that will be simply superb about going into the Army. I won't have to listen to your unfunny cracks. Of course I will miss your sunny countenance, etc. etc. I do hope that you will write more and often.

How about a dissertation on amebic dysentery? NO! What about pulmonary arcuosis? NO!

Well I think I'll close and smoke a cigarette.

This phrase is the title of the currently popular war song which has captured the imagination of the American people and which, we believe, aptly expresses the point of view of the average citizen today, whether in combat forces, war industries, or civilian life.

You can continue to "pass the ammunition" to the boys at the front, by your purchase of war stamps and bonds at this friendly bank. Do it now!

"MY DAY"
by
Fred Kramer

We had a quiet day at the Mad House. I rose at six and played a set of ping pong with National Chumpion, Marilyn Watkins. After which we had an invigorating V-8 on the terrace, taking time to confer with OWI chief Daniel Peck Caulkins, VI. Afterwards I spent a few moments chatting with Democratic senate floor leader, John Miracle. He gave me an excellent receipe for Equine Casserole. I stopped for a moment in downtown Washington to purchase a pill-box at Cobb's Chapeau Saloon. I considered it a bargain at $250, but of course NAR wouldn't. The budget, you know.

I dropped in for luncheon with movie queen Cookie Vaughn at her place in Pomona and was pleased to meet her current spouse, Clark Gebhardt. Miss Vaughn recently went over the top in her sale of postage stamps, after her appearance in the biography of "Cheney the Chemist" "2H2 +O2 = 2H2O" or "Why

On my return trip to the White House I stopped in Jensen's Jeweled Joint for a stimulating game of snooker. I saw there, sniffing as she dropped nickels into the slot machine, divorcee Virginia Huntington recently estranged from her publisher husband (AM, Vague, Expire, Politician's Gazette.), David Mechem Byers. She was accompanied by Edward Morgan, the "white collar king," and owner of the Morgan chain of laundries.

Coming back on the plane I stumbled upon J. S. Adey who was on a mission of utmost secrecy for the president (something about a new potato-bug exterminator invented by Gordon L. Miller, I think). Norma never confides in me!

I reached Washington in time to have tea and a game of squat tag on the White House lawn with that eminent American psychologist, Margaret Porter, Ph. D., P. D. Q. and Fala.

While dressing for dinner I had a little talk with nature lover (anyway

I decided to support his back-to-nature movement and establish a Boy Commando Camp on the estate of the late artist, Dorothy Wilson near Liberal, Kansas, where Miss Wilson had gathered together a group of cultural and intellectual low lights and met her death in a fatal game of (hop) scotch with scintillating stump speaker Joyce Adele Vanier. The camp will be named in her honor, Wilson's Wild Oats.

I attended a cocktail party given in honor of W. C. T. U. president Marilyn Oborg on her 21st birthday. This is the who was recently released from the psychopathic ward of Richard Lippoldt's Hospital by the See. He was accompanied by Margery Grant, American naturalist, writer of "Grant's Plants," or "Why don't you buy 'em at the Florist's." Stellar lights were William "Bugs" Badley and his wife-to-be, chorus girl, Elinor Kline. College widow, Joyce Anderson, and dive digger, Delmar Furrow were also in the crowd. It was a lovely party.

I met Norma about eight at the home of Senator and Mrs. Raymond A. White for dinner. At present Mrs. White (former athletic director at Dartmouth) is taking a course in welding at Lockheed's night school and expects to be called momentarily. Senator White is one of the few male members of congress and Norma finds his point of view quite refreshing.

After walking Fala I retired, pleasantly tired after a quiet day at the Mad House.

My Dearest Lynn,

If you are well, it is well, I am well, but I was not always well, once my father dropped me on my head. It hurt too. Well darling you are nearly out of school now. I mean the sophmore year. I sure hope I pass. I'm really glade I did. The teacher must have been drunk. Heh - Heh, (a groan) aren't you glade that Harold is coming home. I'm almost licited as you are. He used to have some good times last summer with the gang didn't he. Remember (Sept.) Harold, Dickie Clark and also Wesht. ? I wish that were all coming back again this summer. I am really sorry that Bob is leaving. I suppose that he will have a furlough sometime. It will be nice to have such homesick We have really had some good times to gather haven't we Lyn. I almost wish you weren't working - this summer but we can still go swimming some time together I guess. He should splash so much beer should he? I bet he gets drunk before June 1. Well, I'm running out of room but fast so darling I want to wish you the best of everything cause you (xxx) really deserve it. Good bye Love Norma

Reserved for Chris

Dear Lizzie:

Isn't this house an uproar? I hate this going away. It's so hard to say good bye. I just can't begin to recall all the fun that I've had in Sabina. You were the first girl that I ran around with here. That Freshman class was really mellow. I missed the apartment last summer, and this summer I've got so much more to miss. I'll never forget that picnic we had at the park. Gosh! There are so many things I want to say, but I don't know how. It would be swell if you could come to Columbus, and meet all of my friends. You'd love it. I like it, but not as well as I do Sabina. The kids back there hate me because I say that. Here we are sitting in my front room, and writing in each others "Yearbooks" you've written almost a whole page, but I can't think of a damn thing to say. That's not unusual is it? I know now that we're not coming back next year. You've been swell to me! There's only one thing you haven't done. Stayed all night with me. Well, some day when I'm a great physician I'll come and see you & Zep. Drop me now or later. Well, I'll say so long and wish you all the Love, Health & Happiness in the world.

So Long
Chris

P.S. Don't forget to write!

Hi there Beth

Well, well, two, score and seven girl ago—
oh! pardon me—I can't get that old thing out of mind—Well, here I am again with a different color of ink. Never mind. Really Beth, we've had a lot of good times together, haven't we? Remember when we first really began to know each other in the eighth grade. And all the crazy things you & I did. Like the time we went to Washington Irving's Halloween party together so very much but remember the time I dream of Jeanie (Zena) with the Light Brown Hair" & I sang it to you, one was at your house & the other at Mary Lou Watson's. How could you forget when we doubled dated, more or less, at the Tivoli? Oh yes. Don't forget. And the time "Sonny" went "bug hunting" with Dramatics class. How we got in much trouble & eat together & all that stuff. Well now another year is passed & gone & I'll probably be sleeping for a while so long & I like you this summer if we have that Tuesday all of the Really Beth, you deserve all I hope you luck in the world & I hope you get it. You really have it in you. Revoir so Au Mary Lou but we sure have had fun this year haven't we. All those silly songs and things. Hope I see a lot of you this summer.

See Liz,
